WISE

Technology of telecommunications

WISE is a telecommunication industry focused on developing testing solutions. With years of experience, WISE has become a reliable and efficient company, regarded as a specialist on test solutions.

WISE is a telecommunications engineering industry operating since 1988 on the high-speed digital communication analyzers segment. WISE's products are used for telephony and data testing and analysis. They are fully developed at the company headquarters in Brasilia (Brazil) by a specialized team of engineers.

The only manufacturer of test sets located in Latin America, WISE exporting to Mexico, Currently, Chile, Colombia and United States, among other countries, are WISE's main markets, in addition to Brazil, where WISE leads its segment.

This position was achieved through the quality of our service and the attention to our customers' needs.

RECOGNITION

All our work was recognized by the Federation of Industries (FIBRA), which awarded WISE with the IT Industry Highlight of 2005 due to its performance on national and international markets.

Besides designing our equipment line for easy operation, we at WISE provide technical assistance and online tech support, with a team ready to listen and implement suggestions from our customers.

Our products are very cost-effective. Every WISE test set is modular, so the customer may choose to purchase the basic module with fewer features and acquire new software only when needed,

QUALITY POLICY

Our company is ISO 9001 certified, adopting the quality policy of developing, manufacturing and marketing IT teste equipment with cutting-edge technology at competitive prices, seeking excellence and continuous improvement of its products and processes, with the goal of fulfilling the needs and expectations of their customers and partners.
